

Week In Society

Amidst an ideal week of Indian summer, when it was simply good to be living, some of the most brilliant weddings of the season took place, both in this city and in Virginia. Living and going were enthusiastically indulged in by the lover of outdoor sports, and the bright scarlet waists, with the warm rugs of the afternoon sun on them, recalled the hunt costumes of the now by-gone, but ever-remembered, Horse Show. Thursday some of the most popular of the "Smart Set" could not put aside forever Carnival spirit, so joined merry groups and attended the matinee performance of Main's circus.

Perhaps the most brilliant and exclusive audience was that which greeted Mr. Jean Knatz d'Orell, of Paris, France, who lectured with so much strength and power on "L'Aiglon" last Friday at the Woman's Club.

On yesterday quite a number accompanied Miss Tyler's party to Newport News in order to see her break the bottle of champagne on the magnificent Pacific liner and say: "I name thee Siberia."

Those who have still some pin-money left to buy more wedding presents will have ample opportunity of spending it this week, for invitations come pouring in even more often than the thunderstorms in July and August.

One of the many notable weddings of last week was that of Miss Otella Burnett Eggleston, of this city, to Mr. William Cullen Bryant Hall, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Promptly at 6:45 o'clock, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, skillfully played by Mr. W. H. McGee, the bride entered, leaning on the arm of her father, Dr. J. W. Eggleston. She was crowned in handsome white organza over white tulle, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

She was preceded up the aisle by her sister, Miss Maude Lizzie Eggleston, who was maid of honor. She was followed in a dainty creation of white organza and carried American Beauty roses.

The bride was met at the altar by the groom, accompanied by his best man, Mr. John E. Hanstrater, of New York. The groomsmen were Mr. George C. Jefferson, Mr. John S. Eggleston, Dr. S. H. Easley and Mr. Robert Cabell Tubb. Rev. Dr. J. J. Gravatt, of Holy Trinity Church, performed the ceremony, in the absence of Rev. L. R. Mason.

The bride, who has a wide family connection, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Eggleston, the sister of Drs. Edward and George Craig Eggleston, the niece of Mr. George Cary Eggleston, whose "Carolina Cavalier" was one of the popular books of last season, and of Mr. Edward Eggleston, the author of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster."

The groom is a member of an old Long Island family of that name, and is connected in business with the Hanover National Bank of New York. He belongs to several noted political and Masonic organizations, being ex-secretary of the Brooklyn Democratic Club; senior deacon of St. Nicholas Lodge, No. 221; a member of Jerusalem Chapter, No. 20, of the Order of Lion Commandery, No. 23, Kismet Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall left on the 8:45 o'clock train, but will return to this city from their bridal trip before making their home in New York.

One of the prettiest home weddings last week was that of Miss Maude Winston Butler to Mr. Charles Burton Ford. They were married Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur St. Clair Cutler, of No. 913 Fourth Avenue. The ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in the front parlor by the bride's uncle, Rev. J. T. Betts, of Florida.

The bride wore an elegant gown of white crepe de chine and duchess lace, and carried the same. Only the immediate relatives and a few friends were present at the ceremony.

The wedding presents were quite numerous, the most conspicuous among them being a solid silver service, containing six pieces, which was at one time the groom's mother's. It was a gift to her on her wedding day from the Mayor of New York. Another handsome present worthy of mention was a chest of silver given by the employees of the Trigg Shipbuilding Company.

The young couple left after an elegant luncheon by the 3:30 o'clock train for Old Point, whence they left the next day for a two week's visit to Asheville, N. C.

"Ellerslie," the beautiful country home ten miles from this city, was the scene on Tuesday of a quiet, but pretty wedding, when their daughter, Miss Annie, became the bride of Mr. Russell Elmo Chelf, of Winchester, Va. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Evelyn Pollard, and carried a crown of black net over turquoise blue tulle and carried maidenhair ferns. The bride wore a traveling dress of tan broadcloth with hat to match and carried pink chrysanthemums.

Dr. J. M. Whitfield was best man. The bride is a typical southern girl. Mr. and Mrs. Chelf left on a northern tour, and will make their future home in Winchester, Va.

At the first English Evangelical Church Tuesday night at 6:30 o'clock, Miss Emma Peterson became the bride of Mr. Louis B. Sonborn, of Baltimore. Rev. Charles A. Marks tied the nuptial knot.

The bride is the half-sister of Miss Emily A. Sugert, of No. 436 East Broad Street. Mr. and Mrs. Sonborn left immediately after the ceremony for their future home in Baltimore.

The Second Presbyterian Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding at high noon Tuesday, when Miss Susan Thacker became the bride of Mr. Robert McClure Paxton, of Rockbridge, Va. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. M. McKelvie, of Lynchburg, assisted by Rev. Dr. Witherspoon.

Her four bridesmaids were dressed after the style of a rainbow, being in different colors.

The bride was preceded up the aisle by her sister, Miss Odette Carling, who wore a dainty dress of white organza with satin trimmings and carried carnations.

The bride, who entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, was handsomely gowned in white organza over white tulle, with a long tulle veil. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses, the streamers of which were nearly covered with lilies of the valley.

Mr. Edward Laid was the best man and the groomsmen were Mr. Wm. Martin, Mr. Carl Bowers, Mr. Edward Montgomery and Mr. Charles Lackey, of Rockbridge.

Immediately after the ceremony an elegant luncheon was given to the bridal party at the residence of the bride's parents.

The interest felt in the personality of this distinguished woman was in no wise destined to disappointment, for the dreary atmosphere of the docks and the trials of the custom-house failed to dim the cheerfulness of her buoyant temper or to cloud a bright intelligence.

Her appearance has clearly evoked enthusiasm when one finds her described as exquisitely fair, with "blue eyes that have a smile in them" and a beautiful intellectual face.

Madame Grace's American tour under the management of Major J. B. Pond opens in Philadelphia on October 25th and on the 28th the Richmond public will have an opportunity of hearing her illustrious lecture on "The Art of Happiness."

Seats are being rapidly sold for this performance at the Academy box-office, but there are still good ones to be had.

Great interest is being manifested in the rehearsals of the opera, Princess Bonita, which is to be given on the 28th and 29th at the benefit of the Hebrew Home for the Aged and Infirm. The cast was arranged and rehearsals commenced some months ago, so a very excellent amateur performance may be looked forward to. Boxes may now be secured at the office of Mr. Henry Hutzler, at the Perpetual Building and Loan Association.

Miss Mary Ashley Bell, of Fluvanna county, who has been the recipient of many social favors in this city during the past two weeks, will leave in a day or two for New York. While in this city Miss Bell was the guest of Miss Perkins, and afterward of Mrs. Mary Leary. She was also one of the party to attend the launching at Newport News yesterday and was the guest of honor at several box parties during last week's Horse Show.

A marriage in the near future of interest to Virginians is that of Miss Mary Richardson, daughter of Philadelphia, to Mr. Alexis Felix Du Pont, of Wilmington, Del. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. Washington B. Chichester, of Rockville, Md., and a relative of the well-known Chichester family.

"The Milton C. Work Whist Club" met as usual last week; a skillful game was played, the best score being made by Miss Addie Chaffin and Miss Mitchell, east and west; Mr. Minor and Mrs. Pinckney, north and south.

Church Hill will shortly be the scene of another wedding, when Miss Annie Schapiro will become the bride of Mr. Morris Miller, of Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wallace will leave next Friday to visit the West Coast, where they will spend a large part of the winter.

The friends of Mrs. Barbour Thompson, of Atlanta, will be glad to hear that she will remain in Richmond until the end of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glasgow (nee French) sailed for England yesterday, their future home.

Miss Bettie Burwell Booker, the gifted singer of this city, will be in England Wednesday, where she will continue her study of vocal music for a year.

Miss Blanche Hardy Hecht, of Norfolk, is visiting in the city. Miss Hecht will take the part of Kitty at the coming amateur opera of Princess Bonita.

Miss Effie Branch and Miss Jean Foss are visiting in New York.

Dr. R. P. Kerr will leave to-morrow for Montreal, where he will attend a meeting of the Council of the Reformed Churches.

Miss Blanche Martin, of Bowling Green, Va., is the guest of Miss Ferguson, at No. 230 East Broad Street.

The marriage of Miss Gwen Newman, of Orange, to Mr. Conway Knox has been announced for November the 7th.

Tea was served at the Woman's Club Monday afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock. A number of people called, including several visitors left among those who were here attending the Horse Show. Tea was poured by Mrs. Wingo and coffee by Mrs. Waddill.

Wednesday Miss Auspau, of Lynchburg, gave several readings from Browning, her skill in the rendering of which delighted a large and enthusiastic audience. These readings will continue for six weeks in the form of a class for the further study of English.

Friday the members were very much disappointed at the postponement of the lecture that was to have been given that afternoon by M. Jean Knatz d'Orell, of Paris, France, who should have lectured on "L'Aiglon." He will appear next week, instead of commencing the year in February, as usual. M. Jean Knatz d'Orell was presented at the meeting, which was held at the residence of Miss Clara Guillaume. The officers were nominated for election in November as follows: Mr. George R. Cannon, president; Mrs. T. S. Lyon, third vice-president; Mrs. T. W. Pemberton, recording secretary; Miss G. G. Gay, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. J. B. Halbyburt, treasurer.

A club which is composed of the Old Dominion graduate nurses was opened Friday night at No. 109 East Clay Street. American Beauty and La France were presented as decorations in the parlors. The nurses who were receiving were Miss C. V. Austin, Miss Helen Barney and Miss Elizabeth Webb, assisted by Mesdames Louise O'Connor, H. C. Bouard, Grace Shields and Celeste Berry.

The Helping Circle of the King's Daughters, at their meeting Friday afternoon, planned for an oyster supper, to be given under their supervision Tuesday week at the school-room of St. John's Church. This meeting was held at the residence of Mrs. Carter, No. 201 East Broad Street.

Miss Emma Schumann is visiting friends in the North. Before returning home she will visit Buffalo, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington.

Mrs. Dr. Charles J. Terrell, of Hanover, is the guest of Mrs. J. Bell Bigler, No. 715 West Grace Street.

Misses Gertrude Stone and Annie Stone, of Buchanan, Va., who were here at the Carnival and remained to visit friends, have returned to their home.

Miss Sally Roy Wallace, of Louisville, Ky., is visiting Mr. H. Spiller Kelley, No. 520 West Grace Street.

Miss Daisy Stanton, of Tazewell county, is visiting her uncle, Dr. Lee W. Stanton.

Miss Bettie Wood and Miss Laura Perkins, of Petersburg, who spent Carnival week with the family of Sergeant Kerse, have returned to their home, after having had an enjoyable time.

Mrs. J. R. V. Daniel, after spending the summer at Clifton Springs, N. Y., and the fall at Virginia, has returned to this city much improved in health. Her son, Robert W. Daniel, is attending the University of Virginia.

Miss J. P. McGuire is the guest of her friend, Dr. Lewis Middleton, of Louisa county, where he is enjoying a bird hunt.

Much regret is caused in this city by the illness of Miss Grace Day, of Smithfield, Va.

The younger society set is anticipating with a great deal of pleasure the meetings of the Junior Cotillion Class, which, under the supervision of Miss Anna Deane Carr, will meet at Belvidere Hall on alternate Friday evenings during the winter. Miss Carr has issued a limited number of invitations, and those who have the good fortune to be invited to attend will participate in some of the most charming social features of the winter. The Junior Cotillion is organized especially for the pretty buds and their attendant beaux of the young set. The first cotillion will be danced on Friday, November 1st, from 9 to 12 o'clock at Belvidere Hall. The patronesses are as follows: Mrs. George J. Johnston, Mrs. Thomas N. Carter, Mrs. E. T. D. Myers, Jr., Mrs. Virginia Newton, Mrs. Charles Bolling, Mrs. Pleasant Conquest, Mrs. John Lyons, Mrs. Adolphus Blair, Mrs. Graham Hobson, Mrs. John Skelton Williams, Mrs. S. P. Miss Nannie Langhorne, of Lynchburg, won the first prize in the floral parade at the Lynchburg Fair and Carnival last week. The parade opened the festival last Tuesday and Miss Langhorne's turnout was much admired by the large crowd of spectators.

at 11 o'clock A. M. next Tuesday. The chairman of all communions are requested to have their reports ready.

At the recent brilliant royal reception given to the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York (the future King and Queen of England) in the Parliament buildings, Queen's Park, Toronto, on Friday evening, October 11th, Miss Bessie Tunstall Barber had the honor of being presented and shaking hands with their Royal Highnesses.

MR. FISHER WAS SILENT.

He is No After-Dinner Talker and Didn't Respond to Calls.

It was after 3 o'clock yesterday morning before the banquet tendered by the Richmond Passenger and Power Company to its officials and other employees broke up at the Masonic Temple.

Mr. George E. Fisher was several times called on for a speech, but declined to respond. He is not a speech-maker. Every time his name was mentioned the five hundred people present cheered. Mr. Fisher seemed to fully appreciate the honor done him.

Captain Frank Cunningham, made a pretty little speech and sang "The Blue and the Gray." He was encored, and sang "It was Mother's Way."

Captain Cunningham received a great ovation. He led in singing "Auld Lang Syne" as the crowd dispersed.

ANDERSON IN SCOTT.

Makes a Clean, Clear Speech to an Attentive Audience.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

GATE CITY, Va., Oct. 19.—W. A. Anderson, Democratic candidate for Attorney-General, made a speech of two hours here to-day. He started out by saying that he did not represent himself, but the Democratic party, and that he did not propose to discuss national politics. The day before McKinley was shot, he said, the tariff had done its work; reciprocity is the only tariff for revenue only, the tariff and currency question is settled.

No man, whether Christian or not, can look back over the history of this country without concluding that God directs events of this country. He said he had heard of no charges by the Republicans
